

On Sunday 26th February 2012
The Hothfield World Cinema Film Club
proudly presents:

Following the success of the acclaimed Mid August Lunch, Italy's droopy-faced charmer Gianni Di Gregorio is back as a henpecked son, husband and father, now in search of a suitable mistress in this warm, witty comedy. Salt of Life (Gianni e le Donne) is also set in Di Gregorio's native Trastevere in Rome, and once more he plays a dutiful middle-aged son called Gianni with the outrageous ninety something year old Valeria De Franciscis Bondoni as his poker-playing, champagne swilling mother. Here, Gianni is married with a daughter, living on a modest pension but still at the beck and call of the imperious Valeria, who lives in a grand town house and is steadily diminishing her son's inheritance on a daily basis through her extravagant ways. When not being interrupted by her demands, Gianni's days are spent walking the dog and carrying out chores for his working wife, teenage daughter and vivacious neighbour. Romance, however, seems to be in short supply until his old friend Alfonso, (who believes every middle-aged man should have a younger mistress) decides it's time for Gianni to reacquaint himself with some of life's pleasures. A hilarious and unexpected series of misadventures follows in this warm and wittily observed comedy, very much in keeping with the charm of its predecessor.
